NORTH SHORE DIVERSITY CATALOG

2022

Welcome to the 2022 North Shore Diversity Catalog

The Cities of Salem, Beverly, Peabody, and Lynn and the Towns of Swampscott and Marblehead partnered in March 2021 to launch the North Shore Diversity Catalog, a regional vendor registry for minority- and women-owned businesses (MWBE). The municipalities have again come together to continue and expand the Catalog for 2022.

The North Shore is not only culturally diverse, it is home to many different businesses run by people who have overcome historic barriers, and we want them to thrive. The Diversity Catalog is a marketing tool for businesses that wish to offer their services and/or products to residents and to other businesses and institutions within the North Shore area. This catalog also helps communities improve equity and diversity in municipal contracts and bids.

Die With Your Boots On

Die With Your Boots On was established in 2018 to keep Salem's dark subcultures in clothing, shoes, and accessories as black as their hearts. Die With Your Boots On is a small family-owned business. Amber and Nick, the owners, along with a handful of dedicated weirdos, do everything from photography, social media, and graphic design, to running our Salem shops, to answering customer service emails, to modeling the clothes, to packing up and shipping your order. We are committed to helping you be your true self expressed through your clothing. No gatekeeping. All bodies are beautiful.

Partnering with emerging artists to create collaborative pieces featuring original art is an important part of what we do. Our Salem shop is filled with creations by local and not-so-local work by artists we love and admire through wholesale purchasing and consignment partnerships. It is our hope that in collaborating with other artisans and small businesses, we can grow together.

Something that is also of great importance to us is charitable support. We believe in giving back to our community, as well as national and international causes. Here are a few organizations we donate to throughout the year: HAWC Northshore (Healing Abuse, Working for Change), NAGLY (Northshore Alliance of GLBTQ+ Youth), ACLU, NAACP, Black Lives Matter, and more. Frequently, we host offers or items that are in our shop to help drive donations to some of these organizations such as lapel pins, books, shoes, or other specialized products. We also love hosting and sponsoring events to help raise money for local organizations. Die With Your Boots On owner Amber is the founder of the Daughter of Darkness Festival, with proceeds benefiting HAWC Northshore.

We offer closed loop bulk refills for personal care and cleaning products! This means when our bulk containers are empty, they go back to the vendor for cleaning and refilling. This system dramatically reduces waste!

I was inspired to start MacRae's when my son and I were doing a school project on garbage patches in the ocean. Further internet research told us that most of our recycling doesn't get recycled! As we kept reading, we learned that micro-plastics get absorbed into the atmosphere then rain back down on us. We were both shocked. There was something about reading this with my son that made me feel like I had to act. I decided to start replacing our single use plastic items. Most things needed to be ordered off the internet, five items in I was starting to feel like I needed a spreadsheet to keep track of each item and where I was sourcing it from. If I was going to make using less plastic a regular habit these products needed to be in one place and available when I needed them. To really make a difference a lot of people need to choose less plastic and my mission is to make that choice more convenient for you.

Let's do better, together.

Candles that are grounded in sustainability and magic.

I started making candles because I wanted a nontoxic, vegan, and adorable candle to burn in my home. I knew that's what you were looking for, too. This candle had to be environmentally sustainable and clean burning. I wanted you to get the most out of your dollars with this creation and feel good about its low environmental impact. All the while, having something pretty to look at that provides conscious self-care.

Curated vintage and antique items for the table, home, and closet.

My love of vintage was handed down to me as most good things are. Between antiquing with my mother and learning everything there is to know about vintage toy trains and classic cars from my father, my own collections have grown over the years.

In 2019, I began sharing my love for a well-dressed table and thrifted finds and I was overwhelmed with the response. Soon thereafter I started to sell treasures from my picking adventures at a table at our local flea market and The Thrifted Table was born.

Looking for that special something? Send me a note, nothing makes me happier than sourcing that perfect piece.
