

INSTITUTE OF CLASSICAL ARCHITECTURE
& ART

WORKSHOP IN CLASSICAL ARCHITECTURE

in collaboration with

THE UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO DENVER COLLEGE OF ARCHITECTURE AND PLANNING

Image: Greek Theater in Civic Center Park, Denver, Colorado | Photograph by Tommy Matthews

The ICAA Workshop introduces classical architecture as a living language. The program begins with architectural case studies that demonstrate the use of classical forms and design strategies in new buildings and places. Participants are then guided through a series of hands-on drawings by professional architects that demystify the forms and systems of classical architectural composition. The program provides instruction for students who are just beginning to explore the language, as well as for more advanced level participants and those who have attended previous ICAA Workshops.

DATE:

Friday, September 23
1:00 PM - 6:30 PM and
Saturday, September 24
8:45 AM - 12:00 PM

REGISTRATION & MORE:

classicist.org/CUDenver
education@classicist.org
8 AIA CES Learning Units|Elective

COST:

Free for students
$50 Emerging Professionals
$75 Professionals

All University of Colorado Denver students who attend will receive one year of free membership with the ICAA, which includes complimentary or reduced tuition to courses and programs and opportunities to connect with students and professionals throughout the US. Participation also includes registration and 8 credits for the ICAA's Certificate in Classical Architecture. Through the Certificate program, students acquire unique skills and a credential that demonstrates a practical working knowledge of classical architectural design.