

Join us for the second annual AAMC NEGEA Health Humanities Online Conference

The Health Humanities as a Teaching and Learning Strategy

Presented by

The NEGEA Health Humanities Special Interest Group (SIG)

AAMC Grant Recipients * Oral Presentations * Workshop/Small Group Discussions *
Musical Interlude

Join us for a scholarly exchange as we investigate novel teaching and learning strategies across the UME, GME and CPD continuum through the creative lens of the humanities, including an exploration of the need for, impact of, and barriers to, integrating the health humanities in biomedicine on a curricular, co-curricular and extracurricular basis.

Tuesday, July 13, 2021
12:45p.m.—5:00p.m.
(via Zoom)

There is no fee to attend. Pre-registration is required. All regions are welcome.

Conference Co-chairs:

Alice Fornari, EdD afornari@northwell.edu * Leigh Ann Holterman, PhD lholtterm@med.uvm.edu

Click HERE to Register

To submit an abstract/proposal for a short presentation or a workshop/small group (due April 12, 2021), as a PDF in the required format outlined in Proposal Instructions to: NEGEAHealthHumanities@gmail.com

Health Humanities SIG Planning Committee Members

Tara Jenner-Donaldson, DMH - Albert Einstein College of Medicine

Alice Fornari, EdD, RDN - Donald and Barbara Zucker School of Medicine at Hofstra/Northwell

Leigh Ann Holterman, PhD - The Robert Larner, MD College of Medicine at the Univ of Vermont

Lisa B. Martin, JD - Donald and Barbara Zucker School of Medicine at Hofstra/Northwell

Suzanne Sarfaty MD-Boston U College of Medicine

Angela T. Sweeney, MEd, MA – UMMS - Baystate