

Sean L. Lager M.D.

Board Certified in Orthopedic Surgery and Orthopedic Sports Medicine
Fellowship Trained in Sports Medicine

Dr. Sean Lager is a board-certified orthopedic surgeon who was fellowship trained in sports medicine. In 2012, Dr. Lager received his subspecialty certification from the American Board of Orthopedic Surgery for Sports Medicine, joining a select number of distinguished sports medicine specialists in the United States.

Dr. Lager's interests include arthroscopy and the management of sports-related and severe traumatic injuries for children and adults. His patients range from elite level and professional athletes to weekend warriors. He treats anything from mild ankle sprains to complex, multi-fracture trauma.

Dr. Lager continues to perfect his surgical techniques and stays current with the latest technologies by routinely attending surgical workshops every year. He prefers arthroscopic and minimally invasive techniques to open procedures.

Dr. Lager completed his Sports Medicine Fellowship at the Union Memorial Hospital in Baltimore where he was a member of the medical staff for the Baltimore Ravens and served as the primary physician for several Division I college and high school teams. Since that time, he has been the head physician for the New Jersey All-Star High School Football team for 3 years and continues to work with numerous local high school and college teams while at Gotham City Orthopedics.

SAFELY RETURN TO WORK

We believe in working closely with the patient, the employer, and the carrier to develop appropriate work restrictions and light duty assignments. Our cost-containment strategies include a conservative approach to the use of our services and testing procedures. We emphasize the value of work injury prevention and provide education to our patients in proper body mechanics as well as post-injury rehabilitation. Additionally, our physicians have received special training in workers' compensation report writing to ensure that our written communications meet all accepted legal standards.

CLEAR COMMUNICATION

Our orthopedic doctors and staff are highly experienced with treating work-related illnesses and injuries covered under workers' compensation. We understand the unique challenges presented by industrial injuries and illnesses as well as any accidents that occur in the workplace. If you're looking for a workers' comp orthopedic doctor or surgeon, visit Gotham City Orthopedics in NYC for a consultation.

We know that early diagnosis and treatment of musculoskeletal injuries is key to returning an injured worker to the job as soon as possible, thereby reducing both medical costs and time lost from work. Our workers' compensation orthopedic doctors and surgeons provide excellent medical care to the injured worker while at the same time keeping the employers and insurance carriers informed of the patient's treatment plan, progress, and status.

We understand that the relationships between employers, insurance carriers, claims administrators, nurse case managers, adjusters, and employees can be complex. We strive to respond immediately with a solution for your injured worker and provide skillful patient care from our group of workers' comp orthopedic doctors and staff.
